France To End

De Gaulle Sets '69 Deadline

PARIS (AP)-President Charles de Gaulle said today any foreign troop elements in France after April 4, 1969, will have to be under French command only. That is the date when mem-bers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization can choose to leave NATO.

In the first press conference of his second term in office, the French president declared NATO no longer is adapted to present - day needs. He said France intends to "progres-sively modify dispositions now

This was taken to mean that he would continue to withdraw French elements from NATO but in such a manner as to permit the 14 other NATO countries to adjust to it.

De Gaulle told nearly 1,000 correspondents and officials in Elysee Palace:

"It is the will of France to dispose of her own fate."

He said this in connection with the announcement on French command of foreign troops on her soil after April 4, 1969. He declared the U.S. has been in conflicts such as Korea, Cuba and Viet Nam and that such conflicts could be escalated into general conflagration. He said France, of necessity, would be involved because her territory is used for communications fa-cilities, air bases and other military installations.

De Gaulle declared the U.S. has established a protectorate in Europe under cover of NATO. OMITS CRITICISM

De Gaulle surprised many correspondents by not taking the United States to task for its policies in Viet Nam during his policies in viet Nam during his 71-minute press conference. He opposes the U.S. military position there and only last month his government expressed "regret and disapproval" of resumption of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

In the early days, Royal Trust provided an Executor and Trustee service for well-to-do individuals. Thus engaged, it became Canada's leading trust company.

Today, there is a Royal Trust service for everybody. Savings, real estate, investment management, pension plans, Guaranteed Investment Receipts, bond trusteeship, and mortgage loans are just some of the services added to the original executor and trustee functions.

In a climate of ever-increasing competition, this emphasis on a broader range of services finds Royal Trust still holding its position of leadership. The figures below reflect the confidence of the many individuals, corporations and other groups we are privileged to serve.

A Durable Bond

THE VOICES OF COMMONwealth members frequently join those of outsiders in asking what what is the point in preserving such a misty, almost indefinable fabric of international ties.

Such questions elicit a variety of answers. But no matter how doubtful some observers may be, or how qualified their support, the consensus so far has always been that the Commonwealth does serve a purpose, that it is viable, that although it may have to change its form drastically as time goes on, it has a future and fills a need.

This conclusion arises as well from a pragmatic approach to the question. Although membership carries no guaranteed trading benefits, no unbreakable commitments, no protection against the competition of member nations in a score of fields, no over-riding access to financial assistance, no assurance of preference over any non-member, the fact still remains that few members of the family of nations have chosen to leave it.

All cling to it for one reason or another. It seems clear that so rather than conflict." shaky and intangible a mechanism could never have endured so long on a voluntary basis if the members did not derive benefits from it. The fact that it still exists under such continue to do so.

There is here a unity of ideas and beliefs on a number of issues, which while far from unanimous in the value of the organization is and the whole, does achieve a body of understanding and agreement that provides a reasonably firm base in a world of shifting international sands. There may be disagreement and discontent on individual points, but there is a wide enough consensus to maintain a recognizable community of thought. It is this that keeps the Commonwealth together despite the fact that there are no treaties, no pacts, no compulsion, no parliament.

It is significant that the black nations of the Commonwealth continue their support: the recent conference at Lagos, Nigeria, demonstrated a strength that was unexpected in some quarters. In this regard, the Commonwealth provides what is perhaps the most effective facility for contact between the white and colored races today, apart from the United Nations Assembly. And the Commonwealth has the advantage that, as an editorial in the Toronto Globe and Mail puts it, "it is a forum which seeks consensus

In September of 1965, 400 young Croats were jailed for throwing anti-Communist leafelts in Zagreb (Yugoslavia). In January of this year, unexpectedly, a Communist newspaper of Yugo-slavia brought the verdict. The courts sentenced thirteen Croats to 2-9 years at hard labor. It is believed that this month another 33 will be sentenced.

So long as that enigmatic figure held the ear of the prime minister almost exclusively and influenced all his decisions out of personal friendship, no other colleague could be sure where he stood in the real hierarchy of power. Shadowed by the mysterious partnership of two men at the top, the cabinet was of two men at the top, the cabinet was never truly united in spirit and rarely spoke its mind. Besides, as everyone knew, the friendship of the two men hid from both the plain fact that they stood poles apart in basic philosophy and belong in opposing parties.

Now the central element of disunity, represent and isolatery in the covern-suspicion and jealousy in the government has been removed. Though Mr. Gordon still grasps the lever of the party machine in Ontario and continues to manipulate it, the cabinet feels like a man who has dropped an insupportable burden. For the first time, as his col-leagues see him, the prime minister is free to act as he pleases and to be himself at last.

Knowing the stakes in his gamble, he will lead the nation with a new sense of power. Or so his admirers expect.

That remains to be seen. It will be seen this year in at least three decisive tests of Mr. Pearson's courage and the government's chances of revival which these reports will try to explore.

Inflation of Forces

Nor are these indicators, grave as they are, the most painful and basic matters of concern for General Giap. The inflation of the North Vietnamese nd VC regular forces is obviously intended to create a new balance in war, and thus to secure a decision this year—probably as a result of the faint heartedness that is so freely displayed by so many people in Washington who would surely know better if they knew anything at all about the war.

But the price of this inflation has been inconceivably high. One can item-First, the old promise to take only taxes was ruthlessly broken in 1964. The tax rates, already substantial, were then doubled and in some areas even tripled in 1965. It is now common find poor peasants who were given land by the VC, but have fled the VC areas because they cannot pay their taxes. The refugee flow continues and the VC tax base therefore continues to shrink.

The VC promise that all military service would be strictly voluntary has also been flagrantly broken. In the spring of 1965, universal conscription was enforced by such press gang was enforced by such press gang methods that in many villages, boys only 15 years old were marched with the other recruits. In central Viet-Nam and one or two other areas, the reserves of manpower available to the VC have already shrunk almost to zero. And whenever they get the chance most

Yet if one may judge by the experience of November, December and Jan-uary, the inflation of VC and North Vietnamese regular units is still being obstinately pressed forward. Foreset ably, this continuous increase of regiments that must be supported and supplied with replacements will end by imposing far too heavy a burden on the VC infra-structure in the countryside.

Something must eventually somewhere and give in a big way, too, if Gen. Westmoreland is only enabled to keep the pressure on. That is really the main point to note about this war.

As a soldier, Col. Caamano also holds strong views on the role of the military in Latin America, which he sees as undesirably political and disastrously expensive. It's as though those technical experts in the department of transport's telecommunications section responded like a computer to the press of a button when Messrs. Snelgrove, Stirling and Waters filed their "technical" application. Blissfully unaware of it, serene in his confidence in the law, the regulations, his officials, and the BBG, Mr. Pickersgill clicked along in his ministerial place, the perfect machine-

To think otherwise on such things would be (as Mr. Pickersgill acidly said about Mr. Dief-OTTAWA-Forgive the inexact image, but enbaker) "to see a secret plot even in a Coca-Cola advertisement.

ng to this Mr. Pickersgill, I had to scratch hard to remember another Mr. Pickersgill who was once an opposition member of the Commons broadcasting committee. I remember that he once had some doubts about Tory ministerial activity during a row over the withdrawal of Preview Commentary and the subsequent resignation of CBC public affairs personnel. This was a Mr. Pickersgill who took the lead as Liberal broadcasting critic and expert, who thought there was something less than machine-like about the award of some of the television licences. He was a man who had strong views on the balance of broadcasting in this country and the kind of policy which would save it from the mistakes of the Diefenbaker administration.

I remember that Mr. Pickersgill was a long-time acquaintance of Robert Fowler, that he used to refer proudly to the first Fowler inquiry on broadcasting and its recommenda-tions. I assumed Mr. Pickersgill had something to do with the choice of Mr. Fowler to head the most recent inquiry on broadcasting.

I thought that the Fowler of 1965 and Dr. Stewart of the BBG and almost everyone else seemed clear that the last major policy decision on television taken back in 1958 had been to give second station licences in certain large clties; that there was something like a freeze still in effect on licences for any further stations that would create three-station or multiple-station markets. I believed that changes in the policy were contemplated; that Mr. Pearson said they were before a cabinet committee; that this group was digesting the Fowler Report and submissions from the CBC and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters and some of the views committed to paper by Dr. Stewart. Above all, I thought that Mr. Pickersgill would be this committee; that something as looming in its consequences as the Barrie intention to question, long before it got to the BBG, about its relevance to the new policy the cabinet mittee was working upon.

My thoughts were wrong, my memory poor. Mr Pickersgill merely stands watch upon the Radio Act. Wasn't it good that a reporter phoned him so that he found out what was going on in his machine? Even the members of that cabinet committee may now know about Channel 3. One can be equally as pleased over the report that Ken Soble bumped into Judy La-Marsh somewhere and let her know his willingness to save CTV from John Bassett and those other fellows who "crushed" poor Spence To paraphrase Samuel Butler: "Oh, God! Oh, Ottawa! Oh, Jack!"

Is Society Responsible For Rapists?

By MARTIN J. WEIL The Washington Post

WASHINGTON - American society encourages rape, a leading authority on the sex criminal said here.

The speaker was Paul Gebhard, director of the Kinsey Institute at Indiana University and author of "The Sexual Offender," a study of who commits rape and why. Discussing the sex offender

For example, he said, so-ciety may be promoting rape "when it easily links sex and violence in the mass media."

Gebhard called this "the rapist's dream," noting that almost all rapists insist on de-luding themselves and contend their victims like the experiof our society's major failings is its frequent emphasis on women as sexual objects, rather than human beings.

Gebhard's research showed the rapist was one who in-variably saw women as sexual objects, to be used solely for pleasure. Many rapists, Geb-hard feels, dislike women.

Mendes-France, premier of France in 1954, referred to Taylor's testimony concerning the Geneva agreements, which ended French rule over Indo-China.

In testimony before the Senate foreign relations committee Thursday, Taylor, former U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said the North Vietnames. "have not forgotten that the Viet Minh won more in Paristhan in Dien Bien Phu and believe that the Viet Cong may be as forbunate in Washington."

Taylor referred to the military victory Vietnamese troops won over the French at Dien Bien Phu. Shortly after that battle, the French agreed at Geneva to pull out of Viet Nam. The country was left divided with a Communist government in the North and a non-Communist regime in the South.

Columbus 3, United 0 By ERNIE FREDORUK

That extra dose of pepper in their play isn't quite suited to Victoria United's taste.

It locked in favor of Colum-bus when Victoria winger Jim Jamieson was ejected from the game at the 18-minute mark. Forced to go 72 minutes with only 10 men, United didn't seem to be anything of a problem the rest of the way.

Jamieson, who was extremely effective in the opening min-utes, was ejected by referee Tony Canta. Canta tackled Jamieson hard and the Victoria player came up swinging.

It was, undoubtedly, the turning point in a rough and some what chippy match. If proof of roughness is needed, consider the fact that referee Steele whistled 42 fouls, excluding such trivialities as "hands." LONG PASSES

Barry Ihaksi, at 72 minutes, ascored for Columbus. All three came on somewhat identical plays—long passes over the United fullbacks. Victory sent Columbus, unde-feated in its last nine games, into second place, one point ahead of UBC Thunderbirds. The T-Birds, season-long occupants of second, lost ground by playing to a scoreless draw with the leading Firemen. In a "nothing" game, North Shore blanked St. Andrews '4-0

Now Every Woman is entitled to look YOUNGER!

A new startling discovery has been made by a small group of skin physiologists. They found a way to make the skin of face and throat actually drink tiny but sufficient quantities of water, to quickly gain an appearance of fresh, smooth youthfulness it hasn's had for years. Facial lines, particularly around the eyes, and throat crepeyness are said to more or less "get lost" as this water gets beneath the skin's surface to push them out of sight.

By special arrangement with the discoverers of this remarkable technique, a semi-lotion has been formulated which makes home application esay, pleasant and effective.

The name of this preparation is 2nd Debut. This amasing discovery fresh from an American triumph, now comes to you—if you want to make heads turn your way once more and again enjoy the rapt attention bestowed upon you in that first Spring!

Your face will look younger, you will acquire a fresher smoothness, which restores the extra all-important impact of the beauty your facial features have always had. Get a bottle today. The 4 os. bottle is $3.75, clinical vial only $1.25.

HOW 2nd Debut TAKES YEARS OFF YOUR LOOKS The active ingredient that enab-es 2nd Debut to make facial skin younger has been named CEF600. It penetrates the outer layer of skin and earries millions of tiny droplets of pure water that the skin has lost during its natural ageing process. This water finds its way under the lines and wrinkles, and as it accumulates there, pushes those unwanted indentations upward. Progressively the face and neck fill out and look smoother and younger sgain. The result is startling.

This ingredient (CEF600) is compounded into smooth-flowing and delightful-to-use 2nd Debut. Use nightly (and daily under make-up) so that during 24 hours of the day it is carrying water into your skin bringing it new life, new youth and new beauty.

FOR THE YOUNGER WOMAN TOO! The younger woman who does not need the full help of 2nd Debut will find it unique in quickly overcoming the problem of dry skin.

2nd Debut FOR THE LADY IN A HURRY The lady in a hurry may more quickly lift her face out of lines and wrinkles with 2nd Debut contain-ing CEF1200. sise......$5.00 1 os. only.....$1.75

In the same way, clean drinking water was obtained. But the fight to maintain pure air has lagged far behind. Air pollution is not some-thing that has descended on us fairly recently, like the nuclear bomb. It's been around for a long time.

Only difference between the past and the present is in the number and kind of polluting agents in the air.

With increased city living and the growth of industry, more and more foreign substances are released into the air we breathe.

Larger populations and rapddly expanding cities and towns have intensified this kind of pollution to the point where it is considered a major health problem throughout the world.

So far in British Columbia we have been lucky. Except in isolated instances we do not suffer (because of air pollution) from eye and chest troubles, general discomfort and depression, as has been the case in London, New York

Nevertheless, with our expanding economy and creased population, we are about it is now. Before we get to the point where pollution is so serious that millions of dollars must be spent to ensure that our people get their rightful share of pure air. And be-fore thousands of people die as a result of dirty air.

. Boiled as a Boot

VANCOUVER (CP) — The hero known as Boiled as a Boot has been identified.

He's Jaydee Dymons, who once lived on an Indian reserve hear Edmonton and who last Friday night carried and dragged six elderly men from a burning skidroad hotel and led an undetermined number of others to safety.

The tall Indian gave the name Boiled as a Boot to police as he worked to save the inhabitants of the Ferry Hotel. Flames swept the six-storey structure to the fourth floor. No one was injured.

Why the unique nickname, asked reporters who tracked him down'

"I jumped out of a window and lived. My father and three of my brothers didn't. They burned to death. "Now, when I see a fire, something happens to me."
What happened Friday night, when a tipsy Dymons saw the Ferry Hotel burning, was summed up by resident Bill Castle:

Those small, fallow stretches between houses were the furnishings of being young. And when you feel a little sad when you think that your son is growing up without them, without the privacy of tall grass, without the sight of his own blue sky going on forever, without the cold, familiar press of the earth against his back, growing warm with his own warmth.

There aren't many vacant lots anymore. The real estate man said they built our house man said they built our house on the last one in our neighborhood. May be he thought a vacant lot was a wasted lot.

Besides, what kid could raise $15,000 just to keep a lot vacant, a small wild place for wall wild second.

The vacant lot was a thousand things. It was the glue that held a young neigh-borhood together. It was the mutual home of victory gar-dens, a place to burn leaves, a harmless plot to set up a swing, a toboggan run, a junior ski slope. It could be flooded into an ice rink in winter, paced off for a baseball diamond in summer. It was badminton court, and a football field.

What is it like to grow up without a vacant lot, in a

The beauty of a vacant lot was its vacancy. It had room for everything, for marbles and mumbly-peg, for a penknife game of cut the pie and a contest with milk-bottle caps. It was the secret home of a hen pheasant and her orderly queue of chicks. It was a rabbit burrow hidden in grass. It was milkweed with a soft licorice smell and sticky white sap. It was the sour taste of a blade of field grass pulled out of its sheath.

And a vacant lot never died easily. When the builders came and began nailing together the house frame, it was still a vacant lot, but now with new dimensions. When the workmen left, the vacant lot took over, offered the new structure for hide and seek, a gymnasium, a place to collect wood and nails and broken bathroom tile. Not until the new family moved in and planted grass and shrubs did the vacant lot stop being a vacant lot.

Patience of Job . . . Wisdom of Solomon Needed

By ROGER STONEBANKS Times Labor Reporter

"What doesn't he do would be easier to answer," said Murray Drew, one of two fulltime officials here for the International Woodworkers of America.

After spending half a day on the job with him, this reporter concluded a union business agent needs the proverbial patience of Job and the wisdom of Solomon.

And it helps if he has experience in law, social work and psychology, to equip him for everything from personal problems to job troubles.

"The business agent pri-marily looks after the welfare of his membership," said Mr. Drew, 45-year-old president of the IWA's 1,700-member Local 1-118 for the last four years.

"There are problems of workmen's compensation, un-employment insurance, job problems — and to obtain the best wages and working conditions for the members.

Look-ahead people are choosing electric heating

These look-ahead homeowners already have. Here's why:

D. H. BROWN, North Kamloops, B.C. "I find it's an economical way to heat. You control the temperature in each room without waste. It uses less space and there's no maintenance cost.'

EDWARD McFADDEN, Terrace, B.C. "Very even temperature. It's a healthy way to heat too - no dust. And with no furnace we have space for another room.'

VICTOR KELLEY, Agassiz, B.C. "We have found electric heating to be completely satisfactory in our home as it is clean, quiet and most economical."

MRS. L. BAXTER, Victoria, B.C. "Our house heats quickly, quite an advantage for taking off the chill on cool days. I like the erature control in each room, too. Keeps

MRS. L. J. SMYTH, Vancouver, B.C. "I particularly like the even heat and being able to control the temperature in the rooms individually. Especially in the nursery."

MRS. M. CALLISON, Fort St. John, B.C. "I have nothing to worry about with electric heating. And I like the feeling of warmth with out drafts. Convenience and comfort are very important to me."

At today's low electric rates, over 9,000 B.C. families have learned that electric heating costs little more than ordinary automatic heating systems. But it offers plenty more: (1) Room-by-room temperature control means extra comfort, extra savings. (2) Sunshine-clean electric heat saves drudgery and expense. No dirt, no soot. (3) Equipment is practically maintenance-free. Usually lasts longer, too. (4) Electric heat is easy to live with. Gentle, even heat. Very quiet heat. (5) Compact, too. Simplifies home construction, saves valuable floor space. (6) Resale value? As the trend to allelectric living gains ground, this is the heating system more buyers will be looking for tomorrow. If you're about to build, remodel or extend your home, don't overlook the advantages of electric heating. Ask B.C. Hydro for a heating cost estimate, plus the informative booklet: "Electric Heating Facts." It's free.

France To End

De Gaulle Sets '69 Deadline

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said to-day any foreign troop elements in France after April 4, 1969, will have to be under French command only. That is the date when members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization can choose to leave NATO.

In the first press conference of his second term in office, the French president declared NATO no longer is adapted to present - day needs. He said France intends to "progres-sively modify dispositions now in force."

This was taken to mean that he would continue to withdraw French elements from NATO but in such a manner as to per-mit the 14 other NATO countries to adjust to it.

The United States now has about 20,000 troops in France, running supply and other bases. AFFECTS NATO, S.H.A.P.E.

In addition, the French presi dent's statement that foreign troops would have to come under French command threw into question the status of such big installationas as NATO headquarters near the Bois de Bou-ogne in Paris and the rambling Versailles headquarters of S.H.A.P.E., Supreme Headquarters of Allied Powers in Eu-correspondents and officials in Elysee Palace:

He said this in connection with the announcement on French command of foreign troops on

He declared the U.S. has been in conflicts such as Korea, Cuba and Viet Nam and that such conflicts could be escalated into general conflagration. He said France, of necessity, would be involved because her territory is used for communications facilities, air bases and other mili-tary installations.

De Gaulle declared the U.S. has established a protectorate in Europe under cover of NATO. OMPTS CRITICISM

De Gaulle surprised many correspondents by not taking the United States to task for its policies in Viet Nam during his 71-minute press conference. He opposes the U.S. military position there and only last month his government expressed "re-gret and disapproval" of re-sumption of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

Gaulle's response to a Johnson

De Gaulle told the press con-ference today that if Johnson cared to make public his letter, then he would be agreeable to publishing his reply.

De Gaulle, however, re-emphasized his conviction that there is no way to peace in Viet Nam other than open discussion with those involved. Those involved, he said, are those who took part in the Geneva conference of 1954 ending the Indochinese war. Among them are China, the Soviet Union and Britain. The U.S. was not a signatory to the accords.

Commissioner Said 'Murder' For Forestry

"A commissioner would be nurder for the industry," said CFP vice-president L. G. 'Poldi' Bentley on the week-

He was addressing nine members of the legislature who had been flown to northern Vancouver Island Saturday to see CPF sustained yield methods in action in Nimpkish

"I had great respect for the late Mr. (Gordon) Sloan, but a commissioner is a bad thing," said Mr. Bentley.

He refered to the appointment of former Chief Justice visor on forestry matters after he delivered his last royal commission report on POST ELIMINATED Mr. Sloan filled the post only a short time before his death. Matters that were left unfinished were carried on by another appointee, then the post was eliminated.

Mr. Bentley said the in-dustry prefers to work with a competent civil service—with-in the forestry department rather than a commissioner.
Forest industry morale de-

A competent forester should adjudicate major problems, he said.

Canadian Forest Products, sometimes referred to as an Island empire, is "very, very careful not to take good men from the Forest Service.

"We want to deal with good men and we don't want to weaken the Forest Service," Mr. Bentley said.

He felt he was speaking for most of the big companies when he said:

"We want a very strong Forest Service for all times." Committee chairman Cyril Shelford (SC—Omineca) asked whether Mr. Bentley thought it was time for another royal commission into forestry.
"No. I think we need more experience," Mr. Bentley said. "Maybe by 1970 or 1975," he suggested.
